About the Speaker

Arjun Panchal is an entrepreneur, startup mentor, author and public speaker. He is a startup mentor at SIBM, Pune, IIT Bombay, and Innovation Cell, Ministry of Education. He is also being called as guest speaker/judge at various seminars/BPlan competitions at other management institutes. He has mentored 500+ entrepreneurs and assessed 3000+ BPlans in the span of the last 6 years. He was also awarded for his "Contribution to Entrepreneurship Ecosystem" by Shri Balaji Society. Arjun hailing from Nagda MP, after high school, did his engineering from Indore and pursued MBA from the University of Massachusetts, Boston. Post-MBA, he worked with an esteemed organization ESRI in Los Angele as WFM Lead where he along with his team successfully implemented WFM solutions in the company. However, after staying for half a decade in the US, his cherished dream was always to be an entrepreneur for which he returned back to India to make the way of his own in 2015. In Pune, he started a chain of Mexican food outlets by the name "PapaZapata", which has expanded to 6 outlets in the span of 3 years. Arjun has written a book "What Happens in America" portraying a story of the Indian students' life in the US and their diverse experiences w.r.t. the change in culture, relationships, struggle, and fun. It is for all the ones who aspire to go to the US for higher studies. Currently, he is working on creating a startup program and a community to help aspiring entrepreneurs. Also, he is working as a Co-founder and CEO with an EdTech company, soon to be launched
