Report of Expert Talk On “Applications of AI in Forensics” Conducted on 24/01/2022

Following the approval given by respected Director sir, The Department of Information Technology has successfully conducted Expert Talk with topic “Applications of Artificial Intelligence in Forensics” on 24/01/22. The resource person for the talk was Dr. Ritesh Vyas, Senior Research Associate, Lancaster University, UK. Under the esteemed guidance of Dr. Akhilesh Tiwari (professor and HOD, IT), the Talk was coordinated by Dr. Pawan Dubey (Asst. Professor, IT) and co-coordinated by Dr. Tej Singh (Asst. Professor, IT) and Mr. Akhilesh Dixit (Asst. Professor, IT) The talk was primarily aimed to provide the exposure to students of our institute, who are willing to explore the domain of Artificial intelligence, irrespective of the discipline in which they are studying. Moreover, the notable features of the talk are presented below:

1. In the beginning, the importance of data security and authentication was explained to the students.
2. Further, how the Biometrics could be utilized to serve the above purpose was explained.
3. Biometrics were linked to Forensic service utility.
4. Various attributes and traditional ways of the biometrics authentication was explained.
5. How AI is being deployed for forensics was illustrated.
6. To demonstrate the real time application of AI, the current research project work, i.e., H-Unique, funded by European Union, was shared among the students.
7. Since, the AI projects are data driven and data collection is still in progress for H-Unique, student were aware about the volunteer data collection scheme and the privacy policy of it.

Additionally, the copy of the approval and brochure of the program is given in Appendix 1 and 2. The number of attendee (from Lancaster university) and feedback of the program is attached in Appendix 3 and 4, respectively. Finally, the link of Microsoft Teams and its glimpses are provided in Appendix 5.

Note-Sheet

Date: 17.01.2022
Ts

It is proposed to conduct an expert lecture of Dr Ritesh Vyas, Senior Research Associate, Lancaster University, U.K. on the Topic "Applications of AI in Forensics". The same is tentatively planned on 20/01/2022 and there will be no financial requirement. The said expert lecture will be useful in the enhancement of the knowledge and exposure of the students and faculty members.

The brief profile of the expert is being attached for your kind perusal.

Submitted for kind permission.
